Infant Class

Our Infants have enjoyed a lot of spring changes this month. As the weather continues to grow warmer, some have explored the outdoors with a bit of hesitation. Their feet have made some amazing Valentine's art work, with the hope their toes get a lot of sensory experiences.

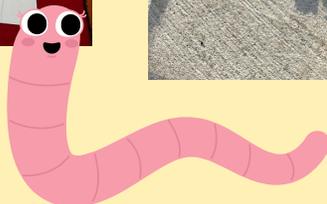

Toddler Class

Toddlers have been terrific this month, explore with some dirt and mud. They have learned to paint with some interesting tools, creating Valentines memories to share. Students have explored the outside with a few trips around the neighborhood, having scavenger hunts for nature finds!

Preschool Class

Preschool has enjoyed a lot of the outdoors. Students used their critical thinking skills and made bird feeders, as well as an oddly shaped bird house. We discovered how worms can do amazing things, and wow we have definitely learned to love digging in the dirt!

COMING SOON

A reminder that the summer is coming soon, and Kindergarten REGISTRATION will be upon us! It's never too early to start getting ready.

School Age Class

Some bubbling science is brewing in the school age room. Simple ingredients from the kitchen cabinets has made a world of explosions for students to wonder and explore. Our weather continues to grow nicer, as our students enjoy as much time as possible outside in the afternoons. Students also took charge in working to help the needy in our community by making care packages to hand out.

Norfolk has no school on March 10th, & March 13th.

MARCH

March will have a lot of exciting holidays and changes. As we look to spring forward with Daylight Savings, we also have some major holidays on our calendar. From St. Patrick's Day, Holi, Ramadan, and more. We hope our weather continues its upwards climb to better days and better temperatures.

Our students will continue to explore their creative skills in making their own art work, and discovering new avenues for knowledge.

Upcoming Dates to Remember:
